Constructing a road in the middle of a desert or on rocky terrain is a challenge faced with excitement by any admirable engineer.

He realizes the great beauty and potential that the land already has and what even greater beauty and potential the land will have after a road is constructed on it. For what good is beauty if it cannot be reached?

So he begins his work. After many days, months, and even years of rough weather, sweat, and elbowgrease the challenge has been met and conquered.

The engineer's stamina has enabled him to complete the road, to increase the value of the land, and to make traveling in this area safer and more enjoyable.

It is with this kind of enthusiasm and drive that we must face each day of our lives.

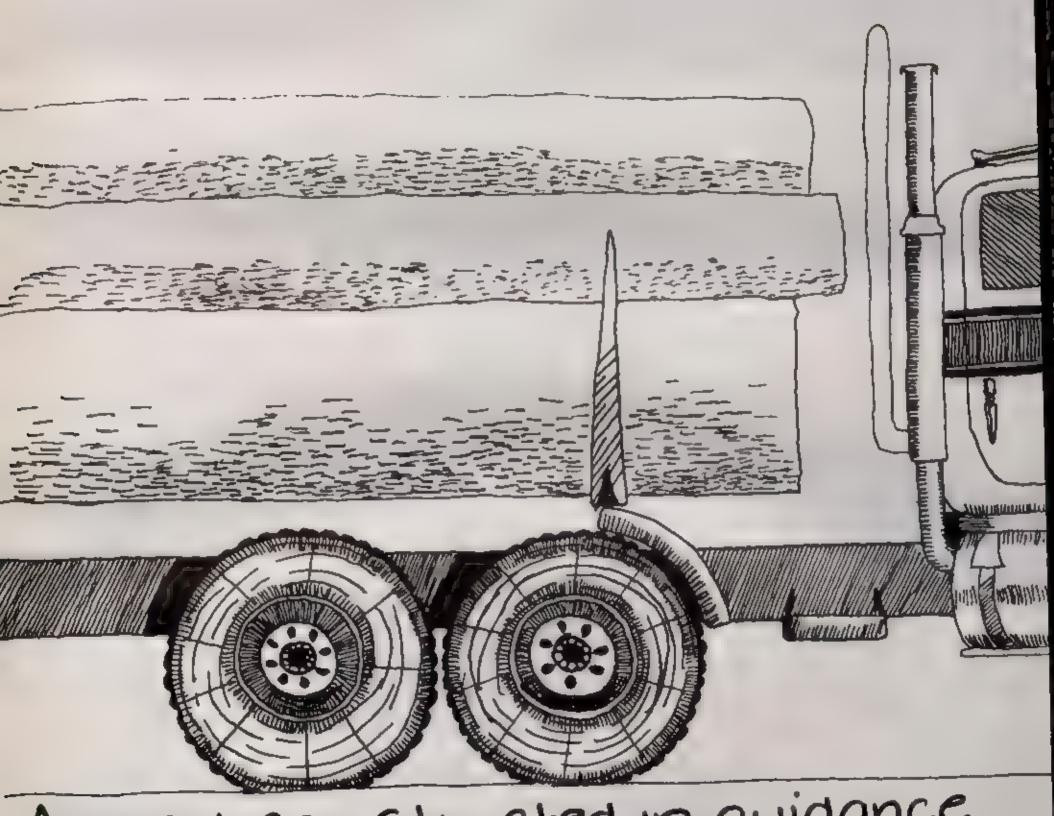

We must realize what great beauty and potential that all of usalready have and if only we apply ourselves everyday. For what good is potential if it is not used?

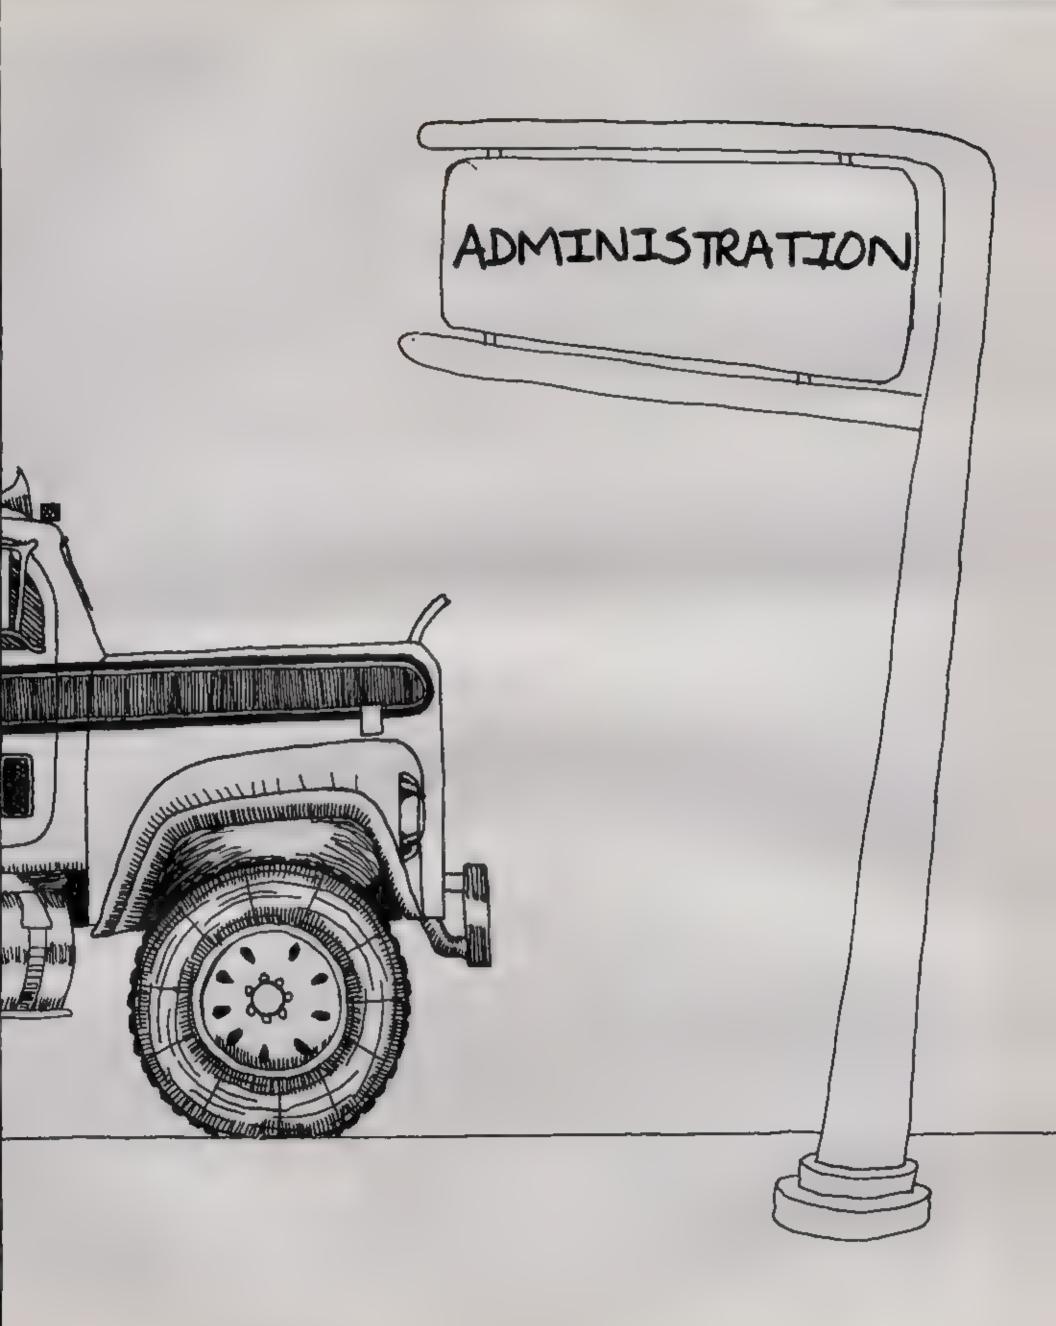

Even though our goals may be time-consuming and a bit exasperat ing, we can attain them by study, instruction, and experience

Our perseverance will enable us to acquire the knowledge and wisdom. which can help us when we construct the roads for future travels.

A road constructed in guidance will be traveled with faith.

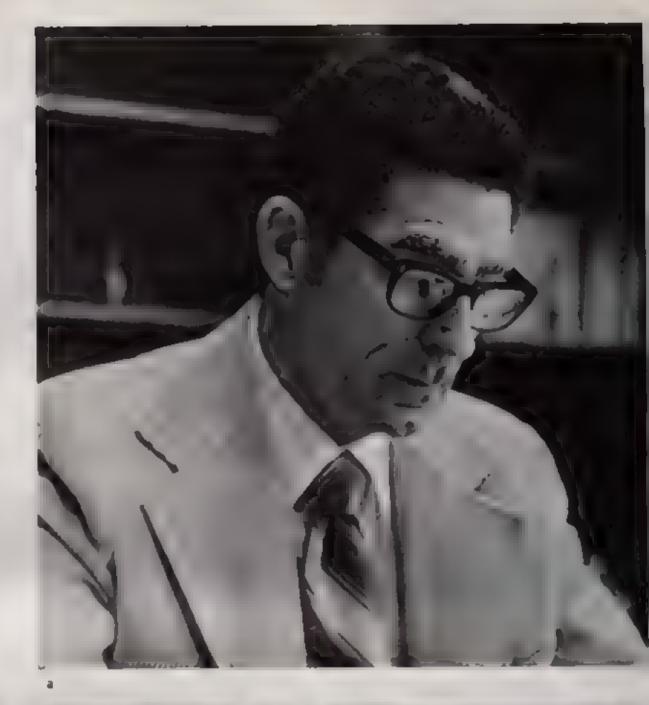

Board Makes Few Changes

One of the year's highlights for the school board was the passing of the school budget at the first election. Also in that election, Don Kruse was re-elected for another term, and Dr. Roy Skoglund was voted to fill the vacancy left by William Duvall, who resigned from the board.

Completion of the new multi-purpose building at Jo Lane was part of a long range planning program. This program also gave Green school some new learning facilities.

Leadership Gets Job Done

This past year was a productive one for the Leadership class Besides handling the traditional events like the Homecoming dance and noise parade, they took on many new projects as well. They were responsible for securing the sponsorship for all dances held off campus

The biggest problem that faced them was the litter problem. They set up signs around the campus to try to combat this problem and also thought of many other ways RHS could be beautified. Two such ways were dressing up the area of the quadrangle around the teepee and cleaning up the parking lot.

Lastly, Mr. Rifenbark arranged for speakers and meetings with Dr. Anderson and Dr. Nees and advised the students with their problems

Traffic Jam Finally Over

Many challenges faced RHS Principal Dr. Dale Nees including the new graduation and competency requirements for next year. Another was the challenge of developing an educational system to utilize the students time wisely. But the biggest and most time-consuming challenge which faced Dr. Nees and RHS students this past year was the parking situation. The students as well as the faculty went through many adjustments in this regard.

Dr. Nees spent countless hours preparing plans to be outlined in meetings. Because of the Harvard Avenue construction problem, the administration had to re-route traffic several times. It wasn't until midway through the year that the traffic problem subsided.

At that point, the entrance was changed to where it stands now. This change allowed a continuous flow of traffic and less confusion. Plans were discussed to put in more new paving to clean up the triangle near Harvard Avenue and paint the parking lot so that in years to come RHS can go back to the parking permit system.

Outside of the parking situation, Dr. Nees urged a more formal-like graduation with dignity. He felt that graduation was slowly declining in quality and needed to be remedied.

'Study Hall' Keeps Order

Two years ago the administration decided that the six-period day did not allow enough opportunities for many students. To meet this need, the seven-period day was introduced by Vice-Principal Allen Ricketts, For those who did not want a sevenperiod work load, they were allowed a resource period. But because of the extremely bad use of free time and the litter problem, the administration changed to a more controlled study hall. This period still enabled students to work, either in a study half or another area.

New System Cuts Absences

The new planned absence system required the students to bring a note from his parents three days in advance of the absence. The counselor would then review the note and send it home with the student for signature by his parent. After this was done, the student would bring the note back to the counselor, who would then approve it. This system cut down the number of dishonest planned absences immensely

Returnees were Mr. Loomis, Sophomore Boys' Counselor, and Mr. Bell, Junior Boys' Counselor. Though busy with counseling duties, each of these counselors was involved in other areas as well. Miss Swartz was the advisor for C-12, Mrs. Stickel was the advisor for the Dance Team, and Mr. Loomis was the Work Study and Varied Programs head. Mr. Bell was the head coach for football and baseball, and the assistant coach for basket-ball.

Secretaries Kept Busy

Playing a very important role, the secretarial staff at RHS kept things running smoothly. There were three new workers — Miss Joyce McKnight, Mrs. Loretta Mabe, and Mrs. Linda Schroeder.

Miss McKnight was the new book-keeper. Her main job was to see that that ASB accounts were accurate and up to date. She was assisted by Mrs. Mabe, who made sure that all transactions were complete and accounted for through the Business Office.

Mrs. Schroeder was in charge of book orders in the Main Office. Main secretary to Dr. Dale Nees was Mrs. Margie Medford, who was in charge of his appointments.

She was assisted by Mrs. Joanne Parkhill, Mrs. Parkhill's job was keeping track of daily correspondence. Mrs. Kay Anderson, Athletic Office secretary, accounted for all transactions made through the Athletic Office.

With the new attendance requirements, the secretaries in the Counseling Center had an enormous job Much of this work fell on Mrs. Yvonne Long, who was the attendance secretary. Mrs. Helen Moreno was in charge of Data Processing, and Mrs. Barbara Holland, student records.

RHS Campus Kept Clean

An essential but seldom recognized group of janitors kept the RHS campus in perfect appearance throughout the year, Besides having an endless number of daily duties, these workers helped set up for assemblies and club picture-taking day

Foreigners Accent Campus

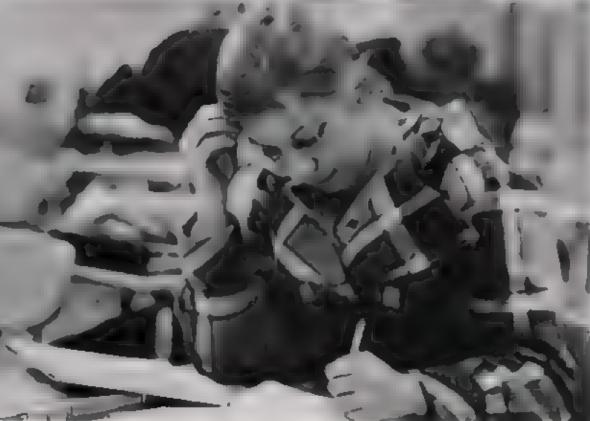

A melting pot at RHS? Almost! Foreign Exchange students accented the Foreign Language program this year. These ten young travelers proved to be a great asset to students studying foreign languages. RHS students gained a better command of foreign languages, a better understanding of foreign cultures, and some lasting friendships from these visitors from Colombia, Costa Rica, Peru, Guatemala, and the Dominican Republic.

French, German, and Spanish were offered once again by Mrs. Gorton, Herr Strong, and Mr. Padilia respectively.

Department Leaves Home

Highlighting the 1976-1977 school year for the RHS art classes was the annual Spring Art Show.

Umpqua Valley Art Association donated its gallery at the Naval Reserve building for this event, which lasted the entire month of May

This show was run similar to the way professionals run them, having students set up their work themselves and actually sell their goods if they so desired

Moving to the Shop building was little trouble for art classes this year Both teachers and students preferred their new home to their previous residence, the L.A. building. The Shop was much more spacious for them, although it wasn't as comfortably furnished as the L.A. rooms were

An art library was added to this department during the year. Students decorated the mini-library to make it more attractive and comfortable. The library could be found in a small cubbyhole located within the bottom floor of the Shop Building

Won't Stay Out of Kitchen

Male interest in Home Economic classes soared this year

Actually, the enrollment of boys in Home Economics classes has steadily increased throughout the years. There seem to be three main reasons for this trend, according to Mrs. McTaggart, Home Ec. teacher.

One important factor is that boys simply like to eat. The tantalizing aromas coming from Home Economic rooms are an overwhelming temptation to innocent (and hungry) RHS students walking by.

Also, roles of men and women are gradually changing in the U.S. Men coming home before their wives do should know how to manage a household.

Finally, bachelors must often mend clothes, cook, and do household chores themselves.

This year an Interior Design course was added to give students an opportunity to furnish the house that construction 3 built.

Mrs. McTaggart returned this fall from sabbatical leave in France

Students Help Out Hemingway

There was a bustle of activity in Language Art classes this year

A mass of new courses was offered to juniors and seniors, including Children's Literature, Myths and Legends, Humanities, Literary Sampler, Indian Literature, and College Boards. These semester courses added a colorful variety to the basic English program of previous years

Writing a conclusion to Ernest Hemingway's short story, "The Killers," was a favorite assignment of Mr Bodeen's IICP English classes during the first nine weeks. Hemingway left it up to his readers to visualize the outcome of the tale, so Mr. Bodeen took the initiative and gave his pupils an opportunity to complete the story however they pleased. Dramatic escapes to outright killings were conjured up by the enthusiastic writers

Reciting Shakespearean and Spenserian love sonnets was enjoyed by Mr. Eskelson's 12AP English classes. Such famous lines as, "Shall I compare thee to a summer's day? Thou art more lovely and more temperate," were memorized. Although most students liked the ancient lyrics, one boy commented, "They were awfully mushy!"

Students Imitate Fish Friends

Splashes, crashes, and smashes were new sounds heard in the Physical Education department.

Offered for the first time were swimming, bowling, and table tennis. Swimming was taught at the YMCA, bowling at a nearby alley; and table tennis, upstairs in the RHS gym.

Swimming and bowling were available in only two period blocks. Therefore, students participating in the program were forced to back up their P.E. classes with their study hall or lunch

All P.E. classes remained co-educational this year except when the basketball unit rolled around.

First Aid was generally the favorite area of study for health classes. Correct approaches to splinting limbs, giving artificial respiration, and wrapping cuts were demonstrated by the qualified staff

There was a lot of controversy in the Roseburg community concerning what should be taught to seniors next year in RHS health class.

Constitution is Rewritten

Two Additional courses joined the Social Studies department this year

A Constitutional Revision class was created to give students an opportunity to work along with other Oregon schools in rewriting the U.S. Constitution. This was a pretend-type of a situation, but the current Constitution does have a provision that allows the document to be rewritten if it becomes outdated

Looking Forward Backwards was the other class that joined the department. This class dealt with futuristics — predicting the future by exploring the past.

Shrieks of Horror

The science department ran without too much mishap this year. Science teachers generally stuck to their established schedules from past years

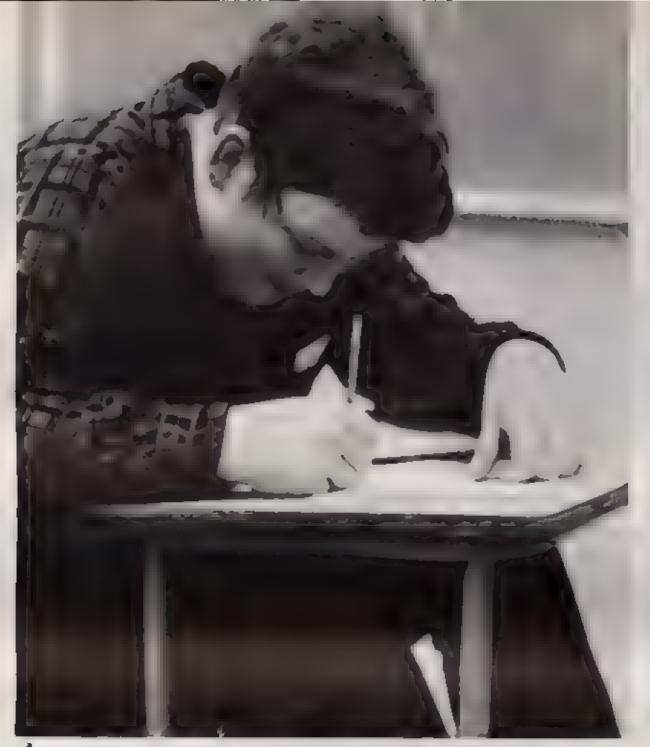

Anatomy continued to be a popular course for RH5 students. Young anatomists studied such topics as the skeleton, muscle physiology and the central nervous system.

The only complaints heard in Mr. findley's anatomy classes were from girls with queasy stomachs. Sick moans and wild shrieks were common when frog legs were pricked, pig brains were exposed, and when sheep eyes were torn apart. Luckily, the dissections were never held more than once a month

Mrs. Sherwin, back from her sabbatical leave in Venezuela, returned to her position in the department.

Delightful Addition

Computer programming was a delightful addition to the math department

This course was made possible by the arrival of a new computer to the department, Mrs. Defenbach taught the class during the second semester. The only prerequisite to participating in the program was that a student must have completed Algebra 2.

Students Play Teacher

After at least ten years of squirming in a desk getting lectured to by a teacher, wouldn't it be fun to reverse roles and play teacher for a change?

That's what several juniors and seniors did in the Pre-Teach program this year. Roseburg High students participating in the program got a chance to assist teachers in local grade schools and junior highs in instructing younger kids.

Some RHS students faced an extra special challenge as they were permitted to aid autistic, retarded, and handicapped children in the area

The Pre-Teach experience was available for students at any two period block during the school day Sometimes students taught for three periods if they were able to back up their two-period block with a study hall period.

According to advisor Mrs. Carolyn Lucia, the program ran without any major problems

All Work and No Play in Department

Business went on as usual in the department this year.

Typewriter, calculator, and cash register clicks were as evident as always in the business department.

Smiles of relief or groans of frustration were witnessed once again at typing timings.

Mahcook, the student store in the Main Building, had an exceptionally successful year. It managed to overcome a large debt by having tight money management and having students sell over-stocked items on their own. The store primarily sold candy and school supplies, but t-shirts and record albums were also available there Mahcook was operated by the marketing classes

Despite the normal scenes, however, a showcase displaying local merchants' goods was set up in the Main Building by the Sales Promotion classes. Everything from stylish clothing to a bicycle was viewed by students passing down the half.

Three Toot to Victory

Mark Alleh (french horn), Suzie Kaser (xylophone), and Kevin Kline (trombone) tuned themselves in for victory in this year's District Solo and Ensemble Contest held in Ashland, Oregon

"One Big Family"

Without JROTC I would have been lost in high school," commented one JROTC member.

This year's seniors were the first to go through three years of JROTC training at RHS, since the program was founded here in 1975. Students in the program generally felt a sense of belonging to "one big family" by the end of the school year

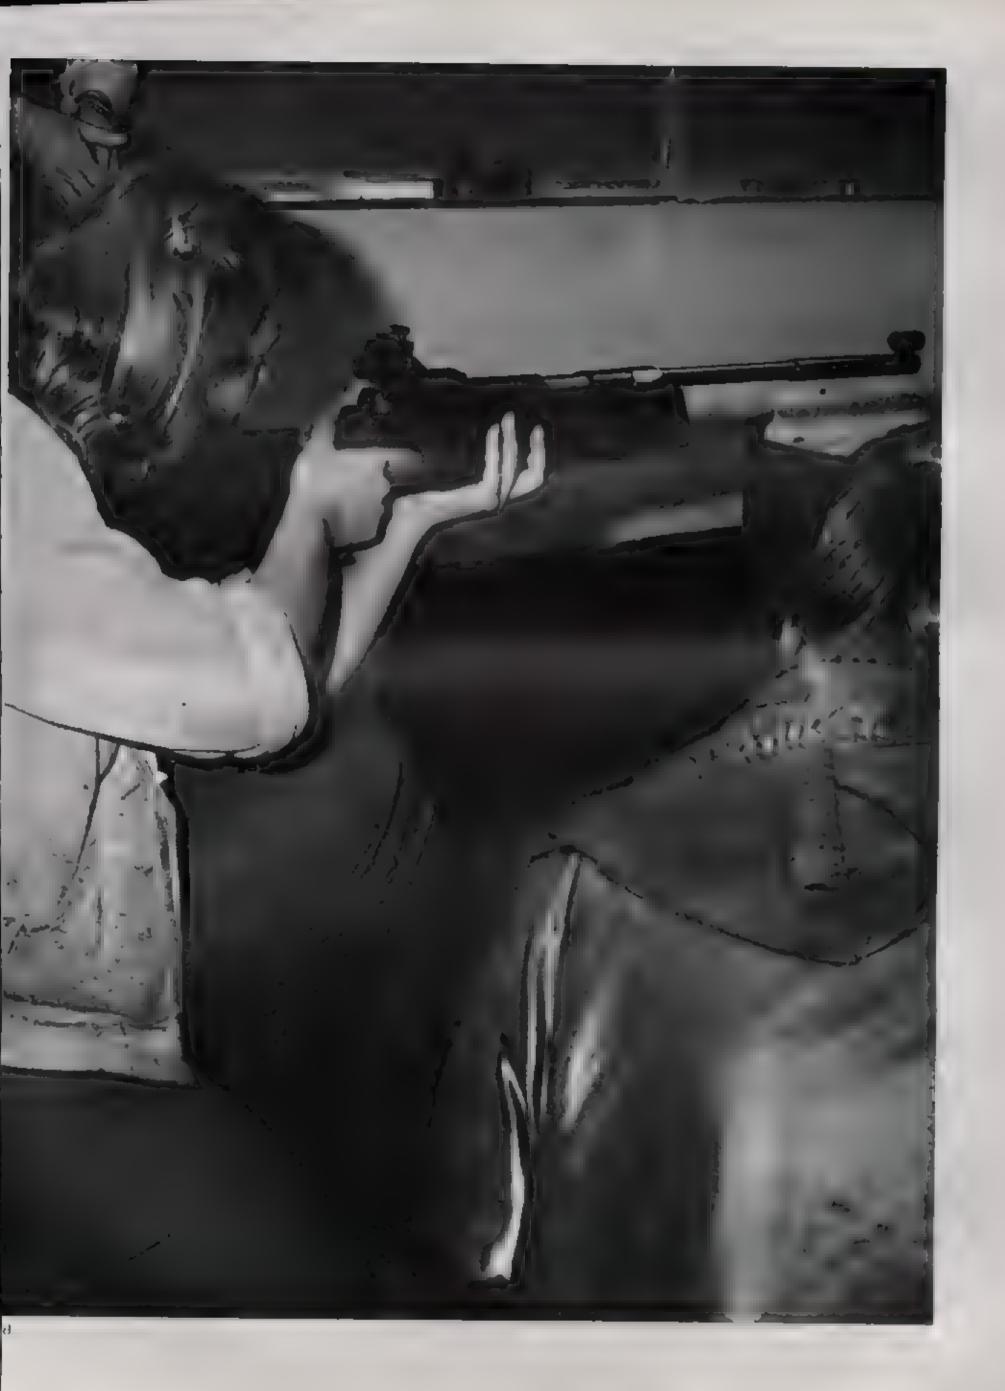

Although the program was run by military style and with military discipline, it also gave students an opportunity to learn academic and other skills not offered elsewhere at RHS. Such courses as basic map reading, marksmanship, and survival training were taught.

A multiplicity of journalistic talent was brought to the surface thus the Orange-R was able to maintain its "All American" rating for the fourth consecutive year.

Chorus Has Busy Year

Choir director David Pool nearly drowned in work this year as the choir instructors dropped from two to one

The new teacher had six performing classes a day, an entirely different situation from his old position at Cascade Junior High in Eugene. "It's been a big change," he commented

Two seniors, Bonnie Potts and Ernie Daniels, qualified for state competition at the Distict Solo Contest held in Ashland in early spring

The Mixed Choir and the Girls' Swing Choir performed at three contests: one at Newport, another at Salem, and a final one at Mount Hood The Girls' Swing Choir placed second out of nine groups at the Newport contest

All six choirs participated in three concerts. Of the three — Christmas, Early Spring, and Spring — perhaps the most successful was the Early Spring Concert held at the end of March at UCC Auditorium. Part of the reason for its success can be attributed to the tremendous support from the enormous crowd.

"We proved that we're better than ever before," expressed one elated choir member after a performance

Year of Firsts For Annual

This year was a year of firsts for the Umpqua Yearbook and its staff

Kim Conan became the first girl sports editor on the Umpqua

In most places the staff also switched to using caption blocks instead of traditional cutline style. This action was taken as a mild step to contemporize the annual.

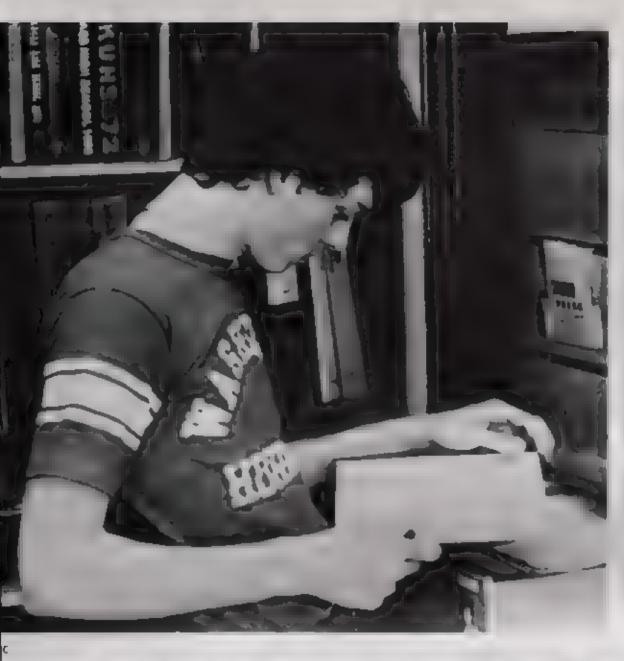

four deadlines haunted the staff this year. Each brought with it headaches and droopy eyes as the annual members slaved till unheard of hours of the night in a mad effort to get their pages in on time.

Vocational Attendance Increasing

Participation in the Vocational program is steadily increasing, according to department head James Powell

Mr. Powell believes the reason is because of a new acceptance for trades as occupations in the United States. Emphasis on college schoolbook education is not as predominant, he adds

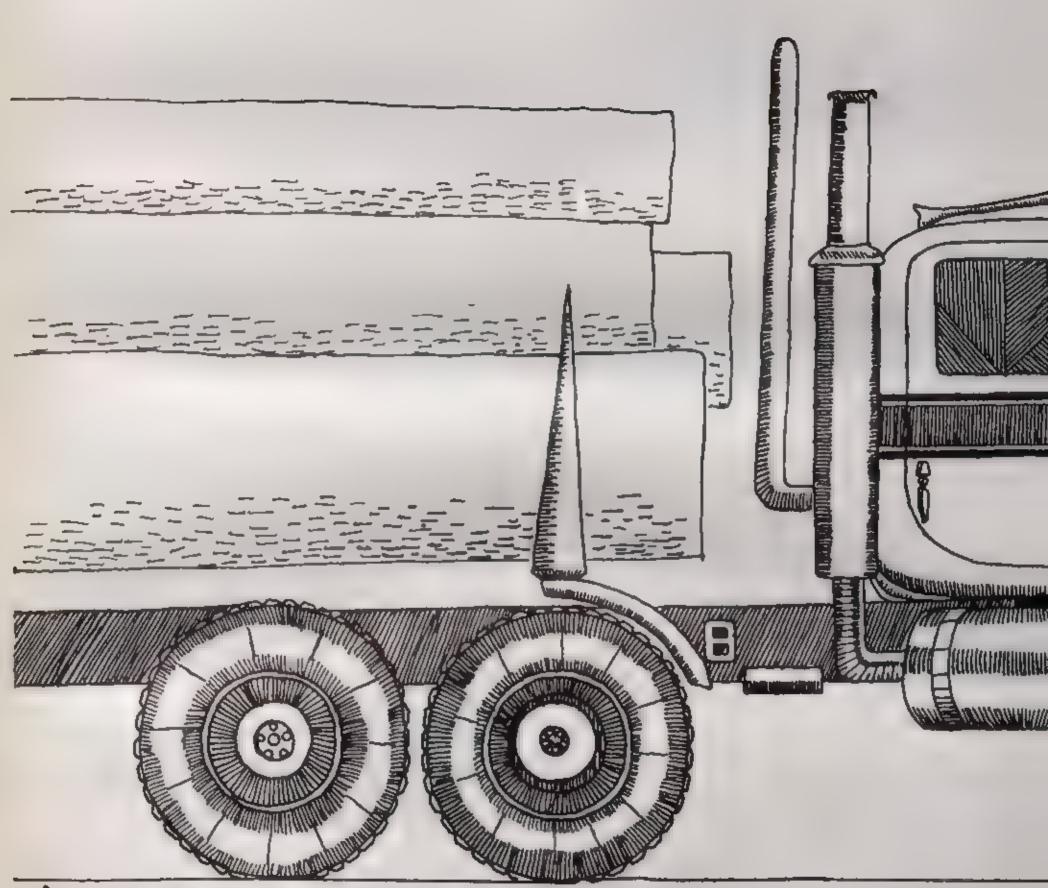

The department found themselves in a unique position this year as they finally ran out of room in the Vocational Building. This seemed somewhat surprising considering the massiveness of the complex, which was built in 1975 for one million dollars

Once again, Construction III built a house as their main project of the year. The house was located in the Lookingglass Project area. It was made open to public inspection on May 20, at which time a formal openhouse was held.

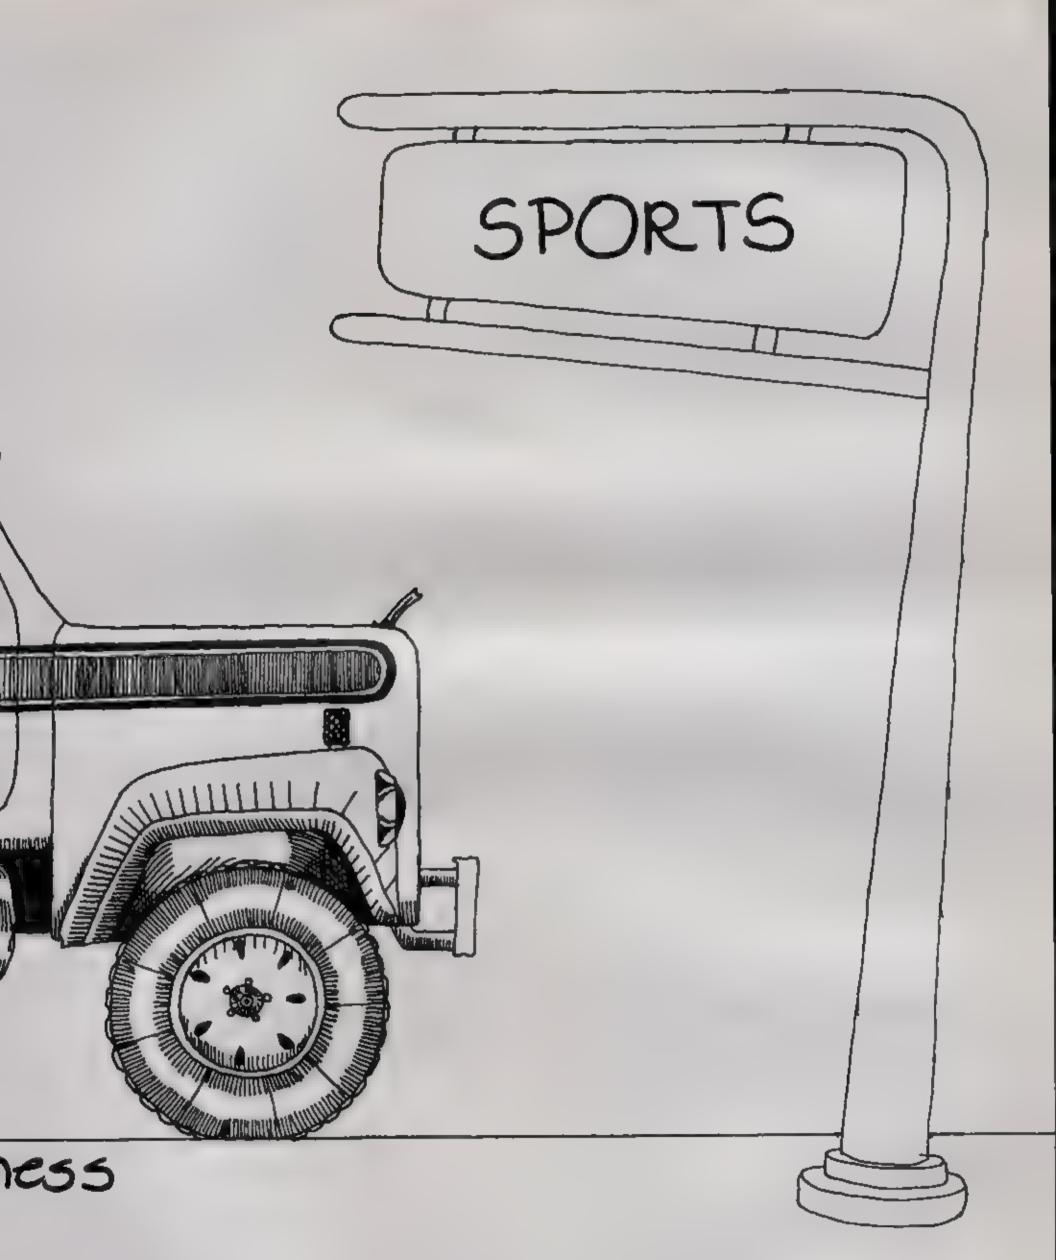

The department ran without mishap this year. No new courses were added to the Vocational curriculum

Two new teachers joined the staff this year. Mrs. Edith Dietrich was added as a Health Occupations teacher, and Mr. Bill Tiffee became the new Agriculture teacher. Gib Walter and Stim Wessela retired

76 Started in a Blaze of Glory

Starting the season rated No. 3 in the state, the Indians were impressive. Defeating three of the four nonleague opponents, they seemed headed for state, losing the last three games - K-Falls, Medford, and Grants Pass — sidelined these hopes.

Pre-season play began with Beaverton, rated as one of the top three teams in the Metro League. The Roseburg defense shut out the Be vers with only the offense giving up 2-point safety. The final score of the game was 30-2.

Proving the ability of the tea even when they are not inspired, t Tribe conquered the Bend Lava Bea 21-0. The following week came to opportunity every team desires, chance to play the best. Opening season play at Ashland, the offense had their best game. The game plan was simple — RUN, down the middle, or around the ends, and un they did! When the clock ran out, the Indians were triumphant, 42-0

For Homecoming the Indians produced their fourth shutout, defeating the stubborn Crater Comets, 6-0. The game was a defensive battle for both sides with the only points coming from the field goals.

Playing Medford there, the Rosepurg team physically dominated the conflict, but came short on the scorepoard. Almost all the statistics argued a win for Roseburg, but the score, 24-21, expressed defeat. Two fumble recovery runbacks by Medford proved the difference

Next the Indians faced K-Falls, who boasted the No. 1 passing combination in the state. The Pelicans took advantage of Tribe mistakes and crushed them 16-7. Finishing the season in the mud of Finlay Field, the Roseburg Indians had a chance for a 5-way tie in the Southern Oregon Conference. All they had to do was to club the Grants Pass Caveman. But this school, which was once coached by Thurman Bell, outrushed the Indians and downed them, 21-7.

JV's Have Exciting, 4-Win, 2-Loss Year

V's had an exciting year with four wins and two losses. The team squashed Sutherlin, clubbed the Cavemen twice, and by excellent teamwork brought a loss to the Medford Tornados.

Roseburg was down by 8 with three minutes left. On a 56-yard-drive the team scored and went for the two-point conversion. Overtime — MHS scored a touchdown and the extra point. RHS scored and Matt Bowman went for two points, letting the air out of the Tornados, 22-21.

"Best Ever" Team Breaks Thirty-one Records

Gaining the title "best ever," the RHS swim team had a very respectable 1976-77 season. Breaking a total of thirty-one records, the Roseburg tank people sent eight swimmers and divers to state, one more than last year

Among the records broken, Most Outstanding Swimmer Randy Randolph had his name put down in the record books in five different events ranging from the 50 freestyle to the 200 medley relay. Terri Warren had her name inked with record-breaking times in seven events. Two of these were medley relays

The awards this year were presented to Randy Randolph, Most Outstanding Swimmer; Shelley Rosebrook, Most Outstanding Diver; Pete Livers and Leanne Renyer, Most Improved Divers; and Sharon Spencer and Mike Fitch, Most Improved Swimmers

Varsity Picks Up Tempo

After a third-place first half and some adjustments, the Indians looked to be a new team. In the second half they placed first.

The Playoffs: Medford was first in the first half so the Tribe played them. to see who went to state in the easier bottom bracket. The Indians lost this close game, 51-52

Next they played K-Falls to see who went to state as the second place team. RHS won 47-45. In the first round at state, the Indians faced the team that went on to take the Tourney this year, RH5 then lost their consolation game to Benson, 64-53, to be out of the tournament.

21-1 Season Record

Under the guidance of third year coach, Blair Sturgill, the JV team had a victorious season. They won 21 games and lost only one, to Grants Pass

This team and the Varsity had practice workouts together, which added to the younger team's experience

High point Indian for the squad was Chester Pepple with 209 points Brett Agost followed closely with 198 points. He grabbed the most rebounds (130), while Chester Pepple pulled down 126.

Starting the year with ten players, the team eventually dwindled to seven of the original. Two varsity players were moved down to join them,

"I had seven kids who played every ball game. We were a good sound team," said Coach Sturgill.

The Indians outscored their opponents 1482 to 1102, and outre-bounded them 874-671.

German Club

Members Get Real Taste of German Culture

Receiving a real taste of European culture, German Club members feasted on Wienerschnitzel, Lebkuchen, and other German delicacies at two dinners this year.

On March 14, a progressive dinner was held, and club members went to different homes for each of the four courses of the meal. German Club wound up the year with a trip to the Alpine Village Inn, a German restaurant in Eugene. Over 40 members attended this annual banquet

Other activities included the production of a German play which was presented in the original language, a Christmas hayride, and soccer games

Herr Mark Strong was the club's advisor.

Girls of the Month

Outstanding in a particular quality, the Girls of the Month are chosen after a great deal of thought and dis-CUSSION

First, the Girls' League Council decides what the trait for the month will be. Then the chosen trait is posted in the school bulletin, and Girls' League members nominate someone they think is outstanding in this area.

Finally, the Girls' League Council chooses a few girls from the dozens of nominations, and from these few a single girl is chosen by a randomly selected member from each class.

The girl whose name makes it through this kind of selecton can be proud to be awarded, "Girl of the Month."

a/ Girl of the Year, Susan Horner, was a member of NHS, National Thespians, Rally, and Drama Club. She was also Secretary of Girls. League, a Roseburg Junior Miss finalist, and a member of Who's Who Among American High-School Students and Who's Who Among Outstanding Cheerleaders.

Girls Enjoy "Evening With Dad"

Girls' League, a statewide organization, provided a variety of activities for its members.

For Homecoming, Girls' League sold mums and gave out the Mr. Irresistible award during the downtown celebration

At their March meeting, the girls saw a movie on rape. A lecture on the practical prevention of rape was given by Policewoman Healy after the film

In late spring, Girls' League sponsored the Father-Daughter Banquet Eating potluck style and watching the pantomimes put on by Drama Club, the girls had a unique chance to be with their fathers for an evening, following the Father-Daughter Banquet, the Senior Mothers' Tea was held on May 12, when the installation of new officers took place

On May 7-8 seven girls attended the State Convention at Glide, where Molly Moore retired her post as State Treasurer.

Climaxing a busy year for Girls' League was the meeting of May 19 Susan Horner was named "Girl of the Year" and also received a $100 scholarship. Singing "Auld Lang Syne," the girls left their last league meeting wo inductions and community activities made 1977 a busy, reward ing year for National Honor Society

For the first time in recent years, an induction was held in the fall, and, after passing the requirements for service, leadership, character and scholarship, NHS accepted 63 new members into its ranks. Speeches were given by Lauri Gauer (history), Debby Ward (service), Kathy Williams (leadership), Jackson Everett (character), and Paul Quist (scholarship), to emphasize the meaning of NHS, Singer Tim McKernan and pianist Gene Reynolds provided the entertainment

In the spring, 14 more members were inducted, and Mr. Robert Keady gave the ceremonial address. Susan Badden and Mary Hall sang for the members and their parents, and speeches were given by Lauri Gauer (history), Ken Donnelly (service),

Penny Wagner (leadership), Barb Hall (character), and Steve Johnson (scholarship)

Besides its formal inductions, NHS got involved with community activities. At Christmas, the club went caroling and gave two food baskets to needy families. NHS also made valentines for nursing home residents and held an Honor Society picnic in May At the end of the year, Debby Ward and Barb Hall each received a $75 scholarship from NHS

Mrs. Sheila Williams, Miss Kathy Jackson, and Mrs. Mildred Miller were the club's advisors.

Varsity Rally

Cheerleaders Awarded Trophies

Working hard to promote school spirit, Varsity Rally painted spirit signs and led yells at football, basketball, and baseball games. They also provided decorations for the sports banquets and put on skirts, made locker stickers, and baked cakes for the RHS athletes

Varsity Rally prepared for the 1977 school year by attending Rally Camp at Squaw Valley in the summer. During their week there they competed with 36 other rallies and won a first and a third place trophy, the spirit stick, and numerous ribbons

Other activities included performing the first place dance routine in Ricketts' Revue and cheerleading at the State Basketball Tournament

Ski Club

Patience Pays Off

Luck was not with the Ski Club in 1977, for they experienced one of the worst ski seasons in Oregon history. December, January, and February came and went, and still the snow had not come to the Cascades.

Nevertheless, the club worked on selling corn dogs and doughnuts, hoping to have an occasion to spend their earnings. When it seemed that all hope was gone, the snow began to fall, and in late April the patient skiers enjoyed their first and only wonderful weekend of skiing.

The club's advisor was Mrs. Carolyn Lucia.

JROTC Honor Guard

Services Rendered

Controlling traffic, giving directions, and maintaining security, the JROTC Honor Guard helped to keep things running smoothly at football and basketball games, wrestling matches, and open house. Other services included the presentation of colors for the opening ceremonies of sports events and graduation.

Traveling to Ft. Lewis for a oneweek orientation tour highlighted the year.

Specialized training was provided by merchant policeman John DeBolt, Douglas County Search and rescue, and Walt's Ambulance

Concerned about the military sterotype that "servicemen are the citizens that don't fit in anywhere else." Advisor Col. Thomas Whalen commented, "I think It's important to know that over half of our graduating Seniors are honor roll students."

Dance Team

Girls Show Dedication

Practicing over six hours a week on their synchronized routines, the Dance Team, clad in new uniforms, gave outstanding performances at football and basketball games, wrestling matches, and the Talent show.

Three girls attended state dance competition at Portland State University in April

Mrs. Sarah Stickel and Mrs. Janet Coughlin, dance major from U of O, were advisors. When asked about the quality of the team, Mrs. Coughlin said, "They're really unique in that they are a super dedicated bunch"

Three Place in District Competition

Created for those students interested in business work as a career, FBLA provided educational experience in bookkeeping, accounting, spelling, shorthand, and business machines.

The year started off with a trip to the FBLA National Convention in San Francisco. Then the club concentrated on corn dog and donut sales to earn funds for District competition

At the District Conference in Reedsport, Kathy Berry took first place in shorthand, Becky McLaughlin took first in spelling, and Marilyn Kaser took third in business machines. These girls advanced to the State Conference

Advisors were Mrs. Helen Dickinson and Mrs. Val Reed,

Enthusiasm Grows Dramatically

To further the interest of dramatic arts in the school, Thespians and Drama Club got involved in both school and community activities.

Sparking enthusiasm were Homecoming activities, which included window decorations and the entrance of the winning float in the school parade.

In December the play "You The Jury" and the Talent Show were produced, both of which attracted big public turnouts.

The year climaxed with a club members' trip to Ashland to see a Shakespearean play. The advisor was Mr. Richard Lanier.

JV Rally

Spirit Climbs Sky High

Responsible for much of this year's extraordinary school spirit, the Junior Varsity rally worked more than ten hours a week perfecting their yells, painting spirit signs, and planning new ways to create enthusiasm for RHS sports. Pep assemblies which the J.V. Rally helped to plan included class competition and various contests.

In preparation for the 1976-77 school year, the J.V. Rally held weekly money-making projects during the summer, and sold rooter bus tickets during school. With some of their earnings, the girls bought new uniforms and attended Rally Camp in Portland.

Other activities which the girls were involved in included decorating the athletes' bedrooms and serving at the football and basketball banquets.

AFS Sponsors Domican Rep. Studen

RHS American Field Service, a branch of the International AFS Organization, enabled Julio Brache of the Dominican Republic to visit America this year. Also sponsored by the exchange program was AFS member Jody Matthews, who attended school in France

To earn the funds required to support exchange students, AFS, in collaboration with the Adult AFS club, held a public banquet which many prominent community leaders attended. This banquet raised over $2,000. The club also made money through the sponsorship of the First Annual Turkey Twirp Dance.

Other activities included a progressive dinner and a weekend trip to the coast

Girls Aid Hospitals

After six weeks of hospital training, twenty-five RHS Candy Stripers volunteered their services at Mercy Medical Center and Douglas Community Hospital. Their hospital duties included monitoring call lights, distributing food and drink, making beds, and occasionally taking pulse and blood pressure

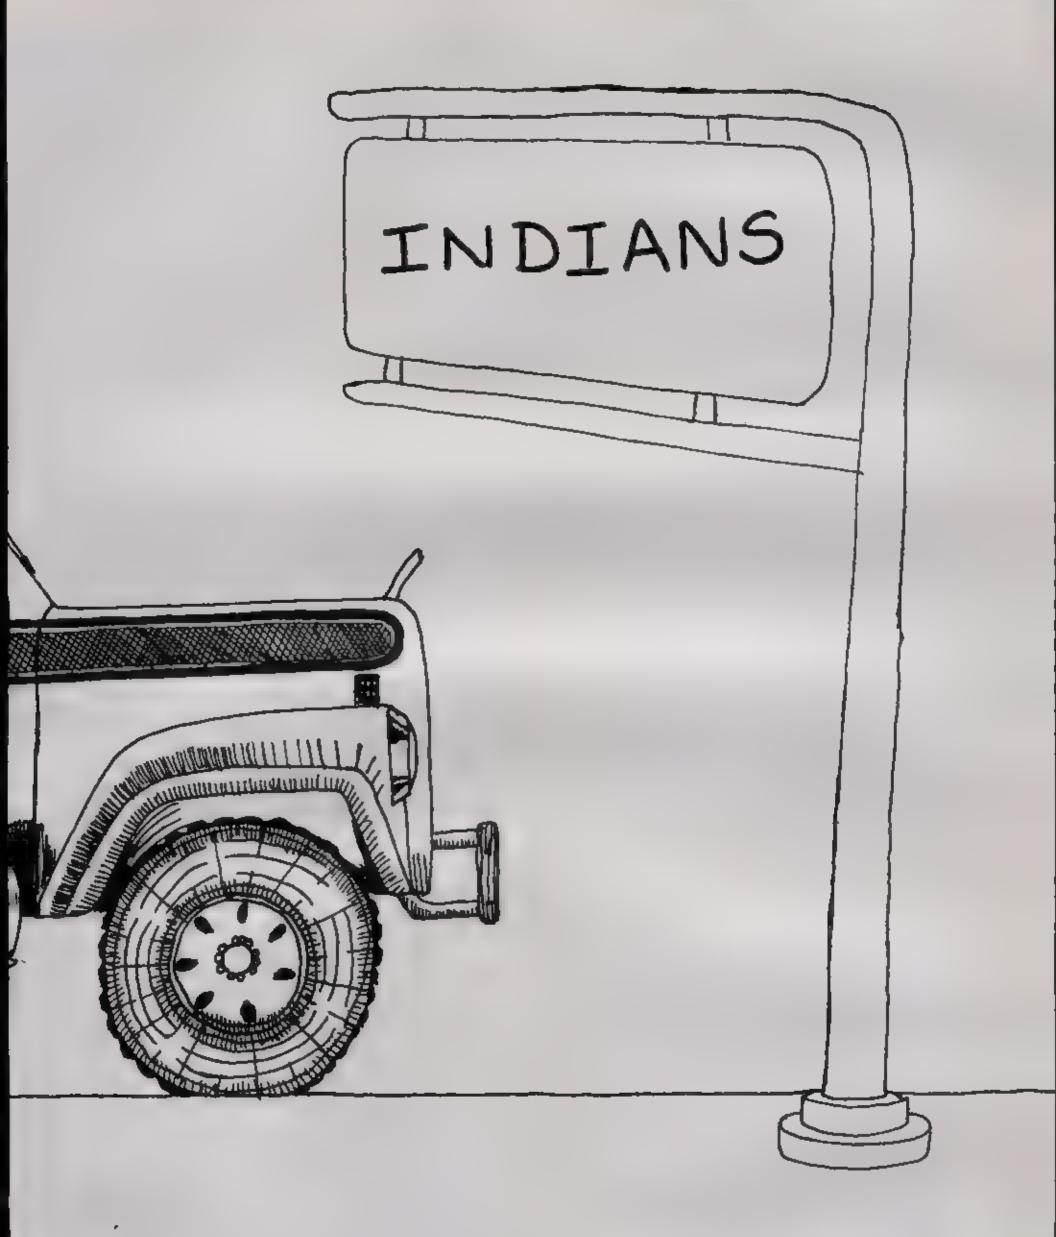

Club activities involved a pizza party, a Christmas potluck dinner, and a spring picnic

At the end of the year, motherdaughter banquets were given for the girls by both hospitals, and awards were presented

The club's advisor was Mrs. Karen. Dierling.

A road constructed in friendship will be traveled with love.

Scholarships Abounded

Nineteen hundred and seventyseven will always be remembered as a year of "firsts" for the seniors that made it that way. Accomplishments were high throughout the year, not only in academics but also in athletics

Academically they claimed a first in RHS history as they collected an unprecedented amount of over $40,000 in scholarships and awards. A total of four valedictorians and seven salutatorians headed the class in scholastic achievement.

As usual, athletics played an important role at Roseburg High. And as usual, the seniors of 1977 scored another victory, with Lisa Nuckolls becoming the first girl from Roseburg to win the state tennis singles crown. Lisa and Toby Keady were named the girl and boy Athletes of the Year. Also awarded were Lori Zerbach, Mitch Hanan, Rick Snyder and Toby Keady as three-sport seniors.

Dignity was returned to graduation this year. For the first time ever, students were given the option of whether they wished to participate in the ceremony. Those who did choose to take part were required to dress semi-formally, the girls indresses and the boys in shirts and ties.

As the seniors left the campus, they would begin to realize the theme of their graduation: "Growth Through Experience Separated By Time, And United in Spirit."

The Juniors demonstrated an over abundance of energy and hard work as they labored together to earn more than $1600 by operating concessions during football season. Through such endeavors they were able to buy each couple attending the Prom a souvenir

By carrying no less than a 3.5 grade point average, 56 juniors were inducted into the National Honor Society, proving the class of 1978's academic ability

The junior class proved to be very successful athletically. Finishing the basketball season with a 21-1 record, the JV's gave a strong showing, losing only to the Grants Pass Junior varsity squad. Track-wise, the JV's went undefeated in 12 meets with Junior Chester Pepple setting the best time in 5 events.

"Nights Are Forever" highlighted the end of the year as the theme of the Junior-Senior Prom, held at the Fairgrounds Community Building. Leading the gala event was Queen Cathy Rinio, escorted by Craig Sarver. People attending the catered affair danced to the music of West Coast Sound

Spirited Sophomores Unite

The old saying that sophomores lack responsibility certainly did not hold true for the class of 1979. They seemed to slip into high school life with relative ease, coping with the many changes that accompany the move

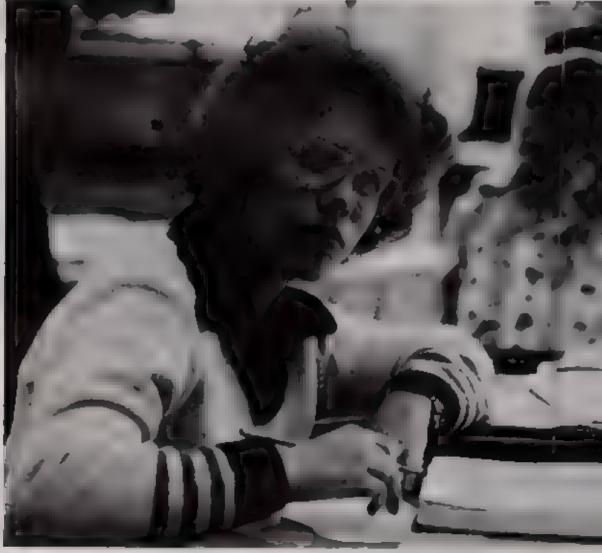

Unity seemed to be the key to the sophomore class as they stood together with determination and spirit. They also showed their strength by excelling in such areas as academics and athletics.

As usual the late fall brought about the traditional round of NEDT tests for the new sophomores. And the class of 1979 proved very capable as they scored on the above average level nationally in the learning placement tests.

The athletic year shone to be very hopeful for the sophomores. With season records of 6-2 in football and 11-2 in basketball, the class showed great potential. Kevin Trunkey led the sophs in athletic prowess by becoming a starter in both varsity football and basketball.

Over all, 1979 proved to be a growing year for the sophomores as they learned and matured into dependable and able-bodied people.

To keep school spirit warmed, pep assemblies were held on the friday afternoon of every home football game. Assembly activities ranged from rookie football coach inititations to banana relay races.

Closing the fall festivities was the production of the second annual "Down Home Plain Folks Talent Show." The contest, put on by the RHS Drama Club, gave RHS clubs and students a chance to perform and win cash prizes.

Patricipation Perfects Homecoming

Student participation in this year's Homecoming was at an all-time high.

Preparations for the annual event began the second week of September and ran until the day of the Friday night gala

Sophomores, juniors, and seniors all got involved with the traditional class sign-painting and class float-decorating. "The dedication displayed by the students paid off with the most colorful Homecoming ever," according to Vice-President Principal Ray Rifenbark.

Roseburg High's second annual "Night Before Homecoming" rally was held on Thursday night at Finlay field. Outrageous contests were staged among the students to promote spirit and get them all psyched up for the big day

After everyone had been coated with eggs or soap, the Mr. Irresistible Court, consisting of Toby Keady, Brent Barclay, Brad Nelson, Mark McIntyre, Mike Oglesby, Cliff Simpson, and Eric Chytka was announced Also announced was the 1976 Homecoming Court — Mary Grosso, Kelli Langrell, Lynda Smoot, Kym Davis, Kathy Williams, Claudia Novick, and Debby Ward.

About 1500 students gathered together on the courthouse steps on Friday afternoon to get rowdy. One perfect red rose was presented to Eric Chytka for proving irresistible

Scott Tried Thrice

According to the Bill of Rights in the Constitution of the United States, no person may be tried for the same crime concerning the same people more than once.

However, the Drama Department chose to disregard this right and put a certain Barbara Scott through the anguish of being tried for the murder of her boss three consecutive nights in the school's first play of the year, "You The Jury," by James Reach

This three-act drama, performed in the first week of December, was a murder trial in which the audience decided whether or not the defendant, played by Sue Dickson, was guilty of the crime.

Although District Attorney Allen Woodward presented some extremely heavy evidence against the defendant, Defense Attorney Edith Scott, the defendant's younger sister, counter-attacked his evidence to sway the jury in favor of Barbara. A verdict of "not guilty" was bestowed upon a relieved defendant all three nights

Leading roles were also played by Mike Oilar, as District Attorney Allen-Woodward, and Debby Ward as Defense Attorney Edith Scott,

Yule Spirit Contagious

Warms wishes, school-oriented hoiday activistes, and nippy weather set the mood for an RHS Christmas.

Yuletide spirit infected the campus after Thanksgiving.

Along with the annual all-school canned food drive, Charity 12 and National Honor Society contributed food baskets to needy families in Roseburg

Cravings for Christmas treats were quelled by school clubs which sold Christmas candy

Advanced Commercial Art students designed giant stained glass Christmas stencils which were traced on the library windows and then painted

Closing the Christmas activities was the Christmas Ball, December 22

Being caught under the mistletoe warmed the red noses and chilled toes brought on by the freezing weather.

Students Have Busy Season.

Senior Kevin Westley's new year started off extra special when he received an invitation to President Jimmy Carter's Inauguration on January 21

Early in February, students were warned of the dangers of "Lance," a lethal form of tear gas. The whitish, granular substance claimed the life of sophomore Laura Dewar

One of the most important events of the year for the JROTC program fell on February 10 when 116 out of 120 cadets in the RHS program stood tall and at attention while being inspected.

Four eager juniors were elected to the Associated Student Body Secretarial Positions on February 14 and 15 Voted in were Chester Pepple, Secretary of Activities; Lynn Heislein, Secretary of Business; Lori Pinard, Secretary of Communications; and Denise Michel, Secretary of Justice

Ten RHS students had the chance to participate in the "Run, Dribble, and Shoot" contest held at Mac Court in early March Kathy Harmon, Rick Miller, Earline Arnold, and fred Innerebner earned Gold Medals, John Lane, a Silver Medal, Linda Phillips and Kevin Cannon, Bronze Medals; Steve Good, a Fourth-Place ribbon; and Eva Coates and Ron Tucker, Fifth-Place ribbons

Intramural basketball season closed with a two-way tie for first between the teams of George Peter son and Dave Thorpe

However, both teams were narrowly put out of the championship play-oif by second place teams of Mitch Galusha and Rick Snyder. The final outcome showed Snyder over Galusha by 10

Drought Dampens Summer Spirits

Students and faculty found it increasingly difficult to attend to school matters as February's customary rainy weather gave way to about two-weeks' worth of mid-summer temperatures.

Tennis rackets and shorts came on the scene quickly replacing snowmobiles and raincoats.

Unfortunately, because of this bit of mid-winter summer, Douglas County, like much of the Northwest, had to contend with the possibility of a water shortage

The Umpqua watershed received only one-third of the normal precipitation since October despite the near normal rainfall in April and May

Douglas County's Watermaster John Youngquist felt that the South Umpqua River might drop below the established 1958 minimum water flow which would cut off two-thirds of the agricultural users, and affect several water-related industries Water temperature would also soar to eighty-five degrees, making it impossible for trout, salmon, and other game fish to survive industries and households alike were asked for a voluntary cutback

Although the Umpqua Water Basin had no dams to store conserved energy, the cutback was extremely beneficial in getting people in the habit of conserving

Luckily, the world as a whole was expected to be entering a wet cycle. The Northwest is just a little pocket of dryness. One average or above average year of rainfall would put us back on the track again.

Until that time and especially during the summer, the main idea would be conserve and wear lots of cool clothing a/ Limited supplies of hydroelectric power could force many students, like Lori Gault, to do her homework by the coal oil light b/ February's sunny weather brought Ed Kytola out of doors to get a head start on his annual warm weather tan c/ Handyman Ronald Tucker repairs the shingles on the cover of a well in hopes that this year's drought will not affect the well's water supply too drastically.

Spring Sees Exciting Events

Even though Spring came in like a lion and went out like a lion, no one had much time to pay attention to the weather, because of all that was happening around campus.

farly in April, the RHS JROTC changed base for one week when they attended boot camp at Fort lewis, Washington. Cadets participated in such activities as bridge building and obstacle courses. Helicopter rides, dinner at the Officers' Club, and a demonstration of a guard dog in action highlighted the trip.

In its first visit to RHS, the Red Cross Bloodmobile came seeking seventy-five units of blood, but in an overwhelming show of teacher and citizen support they drove away with over twice their quota — some 153 units

School board members were in for a little competition when RHS senior Curt Adair was placed on the ballot for position number four for the Roseburg District School Board. Even though Curt did not win, he was not discouraged about the possibility of running in future elections.

The RHS Shop Theater was declared hazardous and ordered closed down from the Roseburg Community and play productions. Improvements such as stage wiring and exit doors must be provided before the shop could reopen

Six girls — Linda Bunker, Lou Ann Curwick, Susan Edwards, Jackie Green, Cathy Rinio, and Susie Robinson — were chosen to be members of the 1977-78 varsity rally by popular vote of the student body.

Junior varsity rally tryouts were also held, and those selected from a field of sixteen participants were Beth Courtney, Betsy Hughes, Carla Mask, Raelynn Palmer, Sherry Pfeuffer, and Debbie Wastley. LouAnne Curwick was selected for varsity rally queen, and Debbie Westley was picked for junior varsity rally queen.

Women's Liberation got a fair shake when Jean Herbage became RHS's first female ASB President ever. She defeated Jeff Gohman in the election run-off on May 4. Also coming out on top were Mark Matassi Vice-President, and Dave Ridenou Speaker of the House.

An RHS senior, Kathy Weaver, wa chosen to compete in the 1977 Mis Oregon National Pageant in May Although Miss Weaver did not place she felt that this experience was on of the most memorable and valuable events in her life.

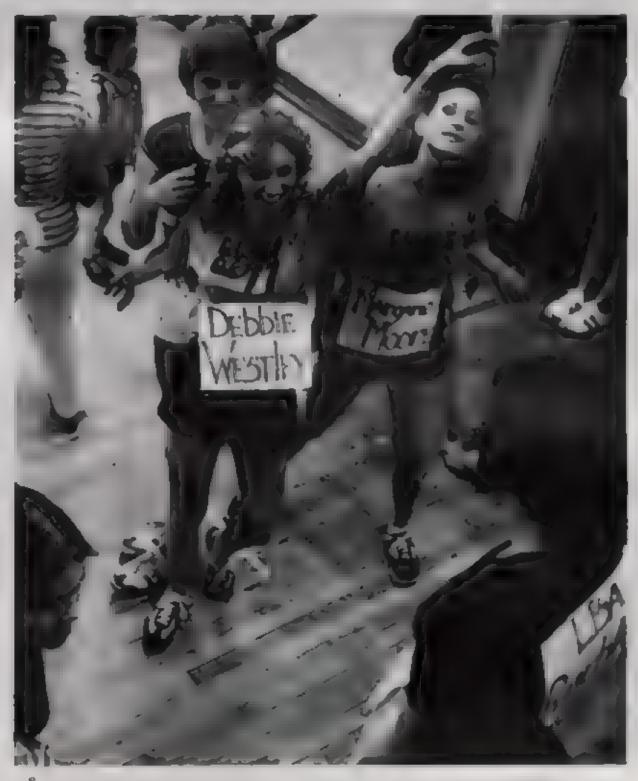

Eighteen DECA students displayed cars in hopes of winning a five-hundred dollar scholarship at the annual Home and Travel Show. The student received two-weeks of training prior to the event. Junior Tamara Green rated highest among the eighteen in knowledge, appearance, ability to answer questions, and attitude.

Two Roseburg girls, Kathy Berry and Becky McLaughlin, were award winners at a Future Business Leader of America state leadership conference in Portland, Senior Kathy Berry placed first in Senior Stenography and junior Beck McLaughlin places first in Business Communications

Females Take The Plunge

Members of the female sex hankering for a rendezvous with their dream man had the chance to make their dreams come true when RHS held its annual Spring T W.I R P Dance

April 1 marked the day when coy young ladies and their unsuspecting young beaus showed up at the Umpqua Fairgrounds Community Building for a rip-snortin' good time

Marrying Sam (alias Ron Goodell) was more than willing to make the night a memorable one by uniting many couples in holy matrimony — a condition which lasted till only the stroke of midnight

Court members included sophomore prince Bill West, junior prince Paul Nevue, senior prince Brent Barclay, and T W I R P. King Scott Kelley — Brew provided the music. —

a/ After being crowned Prom Queen, Cathy Rinio is presented to her peers by the 1976 Prom Queen Sabreena Walling. b/ 1977 Prom Court — Sitting: Sarah Fretwell and escort Sam Moats, Queen Cathy Rinio and escort Craig Sarver, Linda Bunker and escort Eric Chytka Standing: Karen Baltutat and escort Matt Bow man, Amy LaGrander and escort Randy Randolph, LouAnne Curwick and escort Dave Rideriour, and Mickey Langlois and escort Burt Brundige c/ Prom goers Shelly Turner and Oan Bachmeier boogie to the music of West Coast Sounds. d/ Princess Mickey Langlois and Burt Brundige join in the Queen's Dance. e/ Caught by the camera, Shelley Ellerbrook takes her eyes off dancing partner Jerry Bernau.

Forever Ends Too Soon

Romance and excitement filled the air for over 220 RHS couples at this year's Junior-Senior Prom, which was held May 14

The night had been created for lantasy, and it lived up to its purpose as couples were whirled away on a magical, mystical tour and set down in the land of "Nights Are Forever."

Under the direction of promichariman Mark Matassa, the junior class transformed the Fairground's Community Building into a lovely startit garden, complete with an authentic trickling fountain

As a yearly tradition, the sophomore class provided the thirsty dancers with punch. Douglas Portraits was on hand to take keepsake pictures of the unforgettable experience. Music was provided by West Coast Sounds, a band from Portland.

Retiring queen Sabreena Walling and court were introduced, as well as the 1977 queen Cathy Rinio and her princesses: Sarah Fretwell, Linda Bunker. Karen Baltutat, Amy LaGrander, LouAnne Curwick, and Mickey Langlois

Unfortunately, as many couples returned to Earth at midnight, the realization came that Forever had ended too soon

Countdown Begins

Senior Countdown began about two-weeks prior to Senior Check-Out day on Friday, May 27.

Industrious Girls' League began its annual Senior Festivities with the father-Daugher Banquet. This gave the girls the opportunity to show off the man in their lives. The Senior Mothers' Tea soon followed. This gave not only the senior girls, but also the senior boys, the chance to get acquainted with and share good laughs with many of their friends' mothers.

On May 19, Girls' League held its final and most meaningful meeting for the 1976-77 year. Amid the jests given to the newly installed officers, there was a great deal of sadness in the air. Many of the girls did a great job of hiding it until the seniors joined together to sing the tune of "Auld Lang Syne." With 'May old acquaintance be forgot' came the tears because they knew that they would never forget

Seniors gathered together on the last Monday of their high school years for the annual Senior Banquet. Merrymaking and memories were in full swing as the Class of '77 hashed over the times they had shared with fellow students

Unfortunately, with all the good times came the bad. Locker inspection, Senior tests, time consuming check-out procedures, and Graduation practice were just a few.

Seniors Go Back to Yesterday!

Excitement and nostalgia were in the air as the Class of 1977 feasted together for the last time at the Senior Banquet on May 23. The Community Building at the fairgrounds came alive with the antics and laughter of about three-hundred seniors

Abby's Pizza Innicatered a gourmet meal of pizza and pop. During the meal, the seniors were entertained with two musical selections by Ed Studebaker and Jeff Dutra

After tummies were filled, emcee Ed Burton, better known as the hardnose English teacher in V-111, presented the Best and Most Awards. These were voted upon by the seniors prior to the banquet. Eric Chytka and Carolyn Bonebrake then showed slides of the Class of '77, In reliving each memory, the seniors came to the conclusion that three years had not been so long or so bad. Yet, they could not help rejoicing at the thought, "Oh Thank Heaven for '77."

a/ Knowing that their "tickets to Freedom" wait at the other end of the line does not make standing under high noon sun quite as unbearable for Pat Carroll, Sue Cautrell, and Kit Fu Chan b/ With cap and gown in arm, Dan Mecum enters the Commons to find his line number c/ Graduation practice's drazly weather prompts Kelli Langrell to cover her ears with something other than her mortar board cap d/ Reading programs, making faces, and even paying attention to the speakers, helps keep the minds of the Class of '77 off of the heat

"Oh, Thank Heaven for '77 and Sunshine"

Under the merciless sun, 450 Seniors marched onto Finlay Field the atternoon of Sunday, June 5 for the combined Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises

After the class was seated, the Rev Ben Dake gave the invocation. The A Cappella Choir then sang two numbers, "Love Looks Upon Thy Face" and "A Parting Blessing," In his Baccalaureate Address the Rev. David White challenged Seniors to "Accept Themselves."

A heart-warming welcome was made by RHS principal Dale Nees. He expressed his felings on his first graduating class, "Since my arrival here three years ago, I have had the chance to know and grow with these kids. They're a tine group of young people, I hope the community can see what a great asset we have in them," ASB President Doug Geary then presented the top twenty-three students in the class.

Speaking on the theme of "Our High School Years Mold Us," Andy Spencer told of the "Qualities Which Make Us What We Are," Steve John son told the Seniors the "Best Way to Unitize These Qualities," and Teresa Oldfield presented guides in showing us "How to Be the Best at What You Are"

Senior Class President Rick E. Sny der then read the names of the graduates, who were presented their diplomas by Mrs. Cary Northam and Mr. Tom Kimbrell

Oh,Thank Heaven! '77 had finally come, and with it the sunshine!

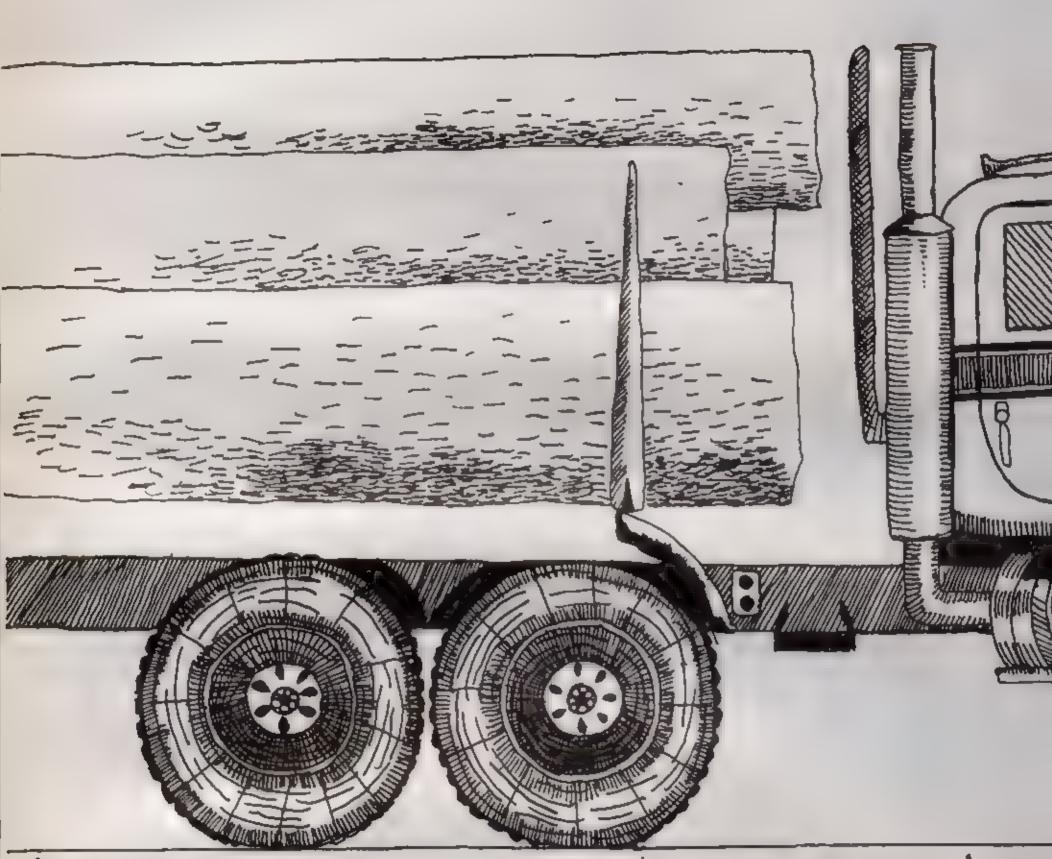

Graduation

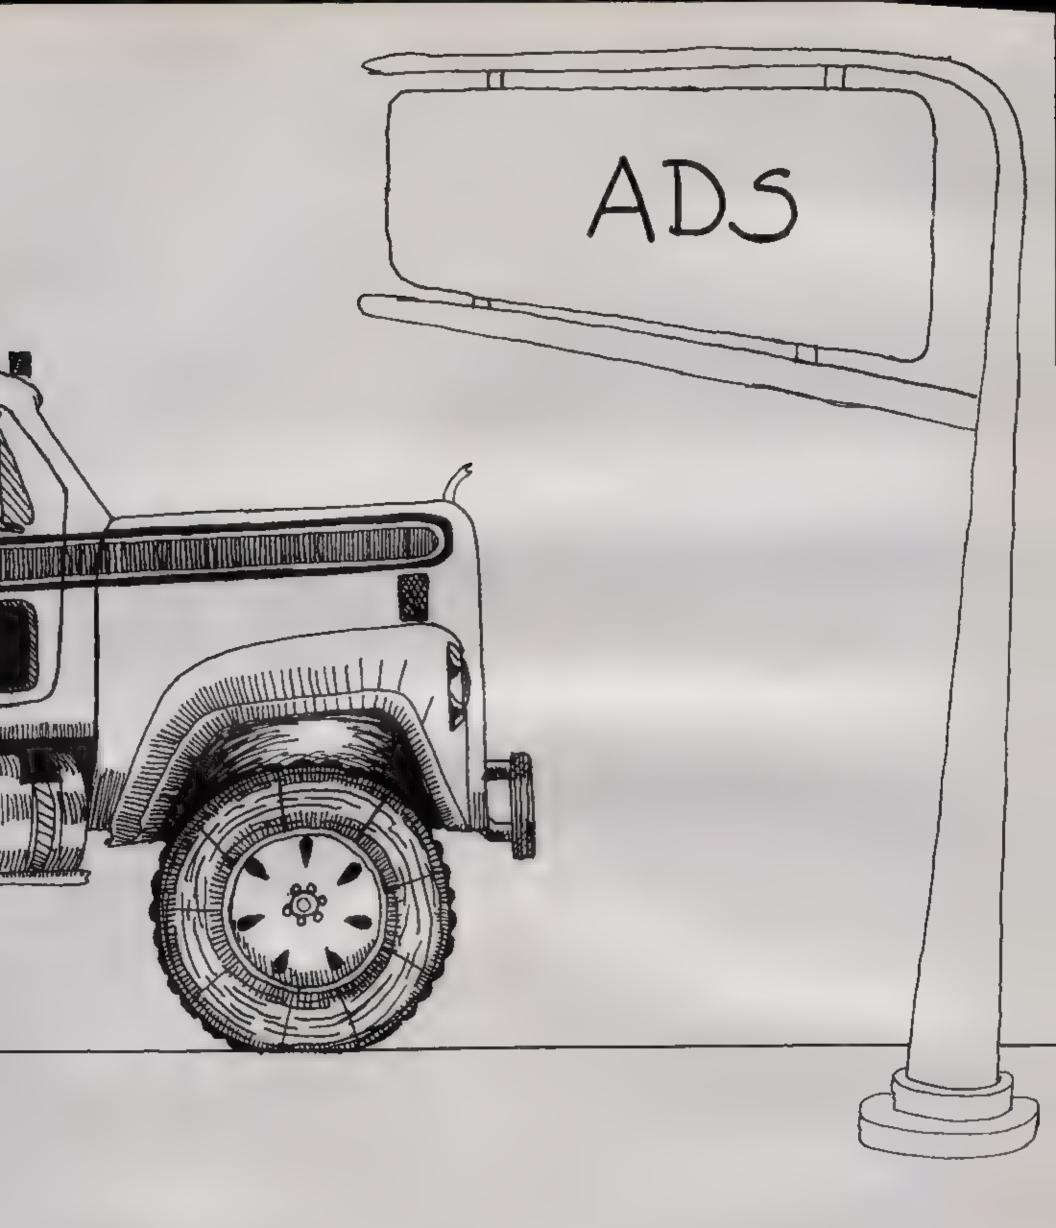

a/ Graduates pause in the noonday sun to reflect on their past experiences, present situations, and future surprises. b/ As IROTC Honor Guard member Marsha Fender watches the Commencement Exercises, senior Brian Bailey receives a congratulatory handshake and his coveted diploma from Mr. Tom Kimbrell. c/ Carefree alumni toss their hats as well as their future to the wind.

LEAVING RHS

Hope You've Enjoyed Your Stay

Over the past three years we have traveled many roads, roads which have led us to new friendships and developed new characteristics and new purposes in our lives. Now we make our exit.

Our journey through high school has come to an end. Yet, this is just one of the many other journeys that we will make through our lifetimes.

It is the sincerest wish of this staff to retrace and recapture the travels of the years. We hope that the Umpqua may serve as a sort of travel guide to show you where we have been and where we are going.

Producing such a log is tough, and we could not have have done it without the help of some very special people.

First, our thanks to Miss Betty Anderson, whose knowledge and understanding helped us bring to you a "Taylor-made" annual; second, a whole-hearted approval and indebteness to Ed Studebaker for the fantastic artwork for the cover and division pages; third, to Mr. Bill Willis and his staff at Douglas Portraits, who helped us squeeze through those trying deadlines which sometimes lasted until way past midnight; fourth, to our sister publication the Orange-R for providing us with some photos and much moral support; and finally, our thanks, admiration, and love to Mr. Donald Bodeen, our Advisor. This one is for you!
